Frequently Asked Questions

- Can I withdraw cash out from a merchant when I make a purchase, if they offer this option?

A: Yes. If the VISA Network supports this function on your new VISA Debit Card, the merchant will advise if this option is available. You may withdraw cash at any ATM using your card.

- My old card never had any fees when I used to make purchases or take cash out. Why do I now have to pay fees to access my own money?

A: Your new VISA Debit Card now operates solely on the VISA Network. These fees are charged by the merchants for using the POS terminals and certain ATM providers. We cannot control what the merchant or ATM fees are, as these are their charges, and their fees are disclosed at the time you decide to use your card with them. You have the option to agree or not to proceed with the transaction.

None of these charges are made by us and none of these charges are passed back to us.

- I have a VISA Debit Card not a VISA Credit Card. Why do I now have to select "CREDIT" on a POS terminal or ATM?

A: Your card is a VISA Debit Card and not a Credit Card. Your old card was also supported by the EFTPOS facility network but has now moved solely onto a VISA Network. Therefore, you can no longer select the option of "savings" or "cheque" on a POS/ATM.

- Am I using CREDIT or my own money when I use the VISA Debit Card?

A: You are accessing your own funds available from your offset account or your available funds from redrawing from your loan account. If you have no available funds to use, the VISA Debit Card will not function.

- I am not happy with these changes can I have my old VISA Debit Card back?

A: No. We have retired the old VISA Debit Card within our rights and in accordance with our Terms and Conditions of your Loan Agreement and the VISA Conditions of Use.
